

For a Fairy, the North Pole is a very exciting place to be. Being a North Pole fairy is a much-desired job among the fairies. Without the fairies, Christmas would be much different than it is. Everyone knows that Santa Claus has magical powers, but where do they think those magic powers come from? It comes from some very special fairy dust called shimmer. Between the shimmer and some magical fairy-Santa spells, a lot of Christmas magic happens. It helps Santa Claus fit down all of the chimneys on Christmas Eve because the shimmer makes Santa Claus as small as a parcel that hops over the flames; it also helps Santa get around the world in one night and it helps the reindeer to fly even when they have the huge sleigh overflowing with gifts and Santa Claus and his elf helpers behind them. Fairies are a great help in getting everything done at Christmas time and they also helped the elves make great toys for all the good boys and girls throughout the world. Fairies are Santa Claus' secret helpers and I am proud to be one of them. My name is Fairy Merry and I am going to tell you a story of a very special Christmas here at the North Pole. It happened a long time ago. I had just been promoted to one of the head fairies at the North Pole and the events that occurred are as follows.
